

REMARKS

Applicant has now had an opportunity to carefully consider the Examiner's Action mailed June 7, 2006. The indication of allowable subject matter is gratefully acknowledged.

The Examiner will note that the independent claims have been amended to limit the sensing means to the temperature sensing devices suggested in the specification. (Examiner is encouraged to review the specification at page 4, paragraph 15.) The temperature sensing devices now recited in the claims are distinct from the temperature photodetector suggested in Allen et al., and are of the type which are taught against by this reference.

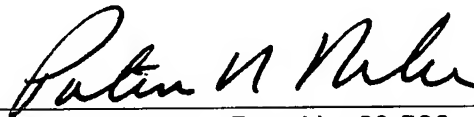

It is believed this application is now in condition for allowance, and early notice thereof is requested.

Respectfully submitted,
